TERMS OF USE FOR WOUTRIP SHARED TRIPS

4. Functioning of the shared trips

Most of our Terms of Use explain its relationship with Woutrip. This section is different, as it explains the relationship between the promoters and participants of shared trip in Woutrip and responsibilities of each party. This is what you accept when you create or participate in a Woutrip service.

Woutrip provides a platform for participation in shared trips. When a user activates a trip on Woutrip, you are inviting others to be part of the trip. Anyone participating in a trip is accepting the offer of Woutrip with the criteria of the Promoter and, therefore, conditions and / or specifications detailed therein.

When a trip is booked, only Woutrip is directly responsible for carrying out the purchase of equipment and / or services proposed in the publication, as well as meet all the points stated on the trip. Once this is done, Woutrip is considered to have already fulfilled their obligations with participants.

Meanwhile, Woutrip must make the necessary Bookings no later than 15 days before beginning a trip that has been booked by participants at a given date.

Since 15 days before trip date, Woutrip will send participants a trip tickets (Woutrip Pass) or any other information needed to carry out the trip or activity (ies).

5. Functioning of collaborative participation in shared trips

This section explains the details of the participation and organization of shared trips; things like: the process of collaborative participation, the modification, the cancelation of payments and how travellers can contact the organizers to meet the published share trip.

These are the terms that apply to the participation of a shared trip:

- You can cancel your reservation until 30 days before trip date and you will be refunded with the 40% of the price you paid when requested the booking (This insurance is included in trip price. If cancellation is done during the 30 days before trip date, you will not be refunded with any amount. For a 100% refund, you should pay for the "Total Cancellation Insurance" contacting with trip's organizer. If you need to cancel your trip, you have to contact with Woutrip through info@woutrip.com, our live chat in www.woutrip.com or Facebook.
- 15 days before trip date, travellers will receive the Wou Pass with all the information about the trip (schedule, bookings number, address, accommodations, phone numbers). Furthermore, the participants (promoter included) will be communicated the information about themselves so they can make direct contact if considered opportune.

6. Functioning of activation of a shared trip

All terms used in the previous appendix are also required to be use by the promoter of a shared trip in Woutrip. However, the “promoter” is a profile with characteristics that determine the trip.

The terms used in the previous Appendix to point corresponding to “These are the terms that apply to the participation of a shared trip “ are mandatory by the promoter, however this has some differences from the “participants”.

- The promoter chooses the travel dates. When a promoter selects dates of travel, he/she may not change them once the trip is public and has one or more reservations. If for any reason of force majeure, the dates have to be modified, it shall notify in writing to the participants and our team through an email with the subject “modification” to info@woutrip.com
- The promoter may accept or decline participants at their discretion and free will. On the occasion of offering a closer and more personal experience, the promoter is directly responsible to make their own team of travelers according to their profile or any other criterion. The affinity between the travel team is essential for a shared trip and a very personal choice in which Woutrip delegates to its promoters.
- A promoter can cancel his/her participation in the trip, but never the entire trip if it has participants. To do this, the promoter must contact us to agree a promoter change or transfer this “charge” to another of the trip participants on the proposed dates.

7. Price and payment method

Woutrip is directly responsible for the purchase or provision of material goods and / or services offered on the service. When a traveller joins one of our shared trips, payment is made at that time. This payment is unique and includes VAT.

The price will include the provision of materials and / or services detailed in the service plus VAT or applicable tax and other taxes applicable. Payment must be made through Woutrip payment systems in any currency that are published there. The traveller accepts payment in currencies other than the Euro may incur conversion costs.
